PROSPECTUS OF THE "NATIONAL MON-UMENT," A weekly journal to be published in Washington, under the sanction of the Washington National Monument Society. JAMES C. PICKETT, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. JAMES C. PICKETT, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

The Monument is intended to be aliterary, agricultural, and miscelianeous paper. It will contain selections of the literature of the day—the best that can be found in American and English publications; interesting scientific articles, embracing mechanics; foreign and domestic news; a synopsis of the proceedings of Congress, and every thing that such a journal might be expected to contain, with the exception of party politics, which will be at all times most rigorously excluded.

The Monument will be published for the express and the sole purpose of aligns in the creetion of the published.

most rigorously excladed.

The Monument will be published for the express and the sole purpose of aiding in the crection of the noble column now rising on the banks of the Potomae, in honor of the Father of his Country, and which every one who venerates the name of Washington would rejoice to see completed. After deducting out of the subscription the expenses of the journal proposed to be published, the remaining funds will be faithfully applied, and without reserve, to the purpose indicated. The aid, therefore, of all who are willing to contribute to so patriotic an object, and one so entirely national, is extractly requested. By subscribing to the Monument, a valuable journal at a low price may be obtained, while it will be doing something, at the same time, towards completing that majestic memorial of the Nation's gratitude.

The Board of Managers recommend Mr. Pickett, formerly Fourth Auditor of the Treasury and Charge d'Affairs to Peru, who proposes to edit and publish the Monument journal, as one well qualified to perform the duties of editor, and to conduct the paper faithfully, and satisfactorily to the subscribers. They assure their fellow-citizens that this enterprise is not a speculation got up for individual emolument. Mr. Pickett will make the experiment with his own means and at his own risk; if successful, he will receive nothing more, and he asks nothing more, than a very moderate compensation for his services. Not one dollar, therefore, of the direct subscription to the recetion of the Monument will be, in any event, applied to the support of the paper, nor the Society in any manner held pecuniarily responsible.

To give the public an idea of what may be done with the journal it is proposed to publish, it may be stated that a list of fifty thousand baying subscribers, at two dollars cach, will yield an annual net profit of from fifty to sixty thousand dollars.

cach, will yield an annual net profit of from fifty to sixty thousand dollars.

The postmasters, and secretaries of all organized bodies throughout the Union, are respectfully requested to act as agents in obtaining subscriptions, thus aiding the great object of our exertions.

As all editors and publishers, on account of the object for which the Monument newspaper will be established, must wish it to succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will contribute to its succeed, it is hoped that they will convert addressed prepaid, to the general agent of the Monument Society, flor. Newark Academy.

Newark Academy.

By a late re-organization of this department of Delaware College, the Board of Trustees have taken measures to place it upon a new and improved foundation, and to endow it with advantages possessed by few similar institutions in the country. The Academy, heretofore merged in the College, and of course subjected to all the evils which have been found to attend the amalgamation of the two departments in the same building, and under the same government, now enjoys the privilege of a separate-establishment, without leading those which result from its relation to the College proper.

A large and elegant estines with all the necessary fix tures of a complete boarding establishment, has been creeted and furnished in which the students of the Academy board, under the immediate change of the Principal and his Assistants; and all its exercises are conducted on a system of its own, uninterrupted by the interests or operations of the other department. The furniture of the study rooms and domnitories has been chosen, with peculiar reference to comfort and convenience for study and nowipense has been spared in provising the apparatus necessary to render the means of instruction completed in the students of the Academy healthless for private study and comificatable accommodation of students, fully equal to those afforded by many of our colleges.

From sits intimates arbitation to the College, students of the Academy enjoy, many advantages not generally obtained at institutions of this kird. Those who wish to pursue some particular branch which falls morraproperly within the College course, may be admitted to recite in any of the College classes. Students size of proper age and discretion, by recommendation of the principal, and parmission of the Faculty, may enjoy the may of the College acade microtion.

the conege as can be premainly enjoyed by academical students.

The charge for Boarding, Washing, Foel, Light, &c., with funtion in the English, Latin, and Greek, is seventy dollars for the Summer Session, and seventy-five for the Winter Session. The only extras are one dollar per sension for incidental expenses, and a fee of eight dollars for Modern Languages, and a fee of five dollars for Drawing, from those who enter these classes. The sessions and vacations of the Preparatory Department are the same as those of the Collars. those of the College.

WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL FOR BOYS, The institution is situated in

WILMINGTON HOARDING, SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be unferred from this fact that, since the establishment of the chool, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted with lange.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemasusy, Physicology, History, Rhatoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been sparred in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Matarture and Science, furnished ample reading matter, while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and teets, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September.) and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventi month (July).

MORE HOME EVIDENCE.

THE TESTIMONY OF ONE OF OUR LAWYERS—Mr. JAS. L. HAMH-TON—DEAR SIR: Although the number and respectability of the testimonials of which you are already in possession, as to the efficacy of you Medicine, "THE GREAT VA. REMEDY," in the disease you are already in possession, as to the efficacy of you Medicine, "THE GREAT VA. REMEDY," in the disease which it is designed to cure, are sufficient, in my opinion to establish its reputation, and secure for it such patronage as will adequately reward you for the discovery of so inestimable a Medicine—yet the great benefit which I have deriyed from its use, and the salutary effects which I have withersed from its employment in the cases of several friends, to whom I had recommended it, constrain me to contribute, for such use as you may think proper to make of it, this formal acknowledgment of its sanitary virtues. My own case was Dyspepsia of long duration, and very aggravated in its character, manifested by an almost total destruction of the digestive functions, great debility, nor southness, emaciation, and impaired appetite, with pain and a burning sensation in the left side of the chest, palpitation of the beart, vertigo and congestion in the head and many other symptoms indicative of the worst type of the disease, by the use of three or four bottles of your preparation, been entirely relieved. The cases of my friends in which your Medicine was taken, were Dyspepsia, Chronic Headache, and Sore Throat, in all of which it proved efficacious, after the trial of a vast number of other remedies without benefit. Your medicine is as pleasant to the taste as a cordial, and in my experience corrects all derangement of the stomach, restores the wasted or enfeeble energies of the digestive organs, and imparts strength and reanimation to the whole system.

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,

Gentlemen—In reply to your letter, I can with great sincerity say, that I entertain a very high opinion of the recent Exchaquer Reports. In my judgment they are not excelled by any cotemporaneous Reports, in learning ability, or general utility and interest. The cases decide are discussed with great care, and expounded with uncomon force. I scarcely know of any volumes which I deer mon force. Gentlemen: Your letter of the 24th has been received, in which you ask my opinion as to the value of the English Exchequer Reports, from Price downwards to thime, to an American Lawyer, and as to the expediency of reprinting them in this country. Of the high value of these Reports, both on the Pleas and Equity sides of the Court, I have not the least doubt—the decisions of this Court for the last fifteen or twenty years, both at Equity and in Common Law, being entitled to equal respect with any others in England. I should think an American Lawyer's Library essentially incomplete without them.

FURNISHING MAIL LOCKS AND KEYS. POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, Post OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
March 14, 1851.

I T being desirable to substitute locks and keys of some other kind for those now in use for the mail service of the United States, specimen locks and keys, with proposals to furnish the same, will be received and considered the Post Office Department until the first day of Junext. The different locks will be submitted to a commission for the post of the p next. The different locks will be submitted to a commission for examination and report. Upon this report, contracts will, as soon as practicable, be entered into for furnishing such locks and keys for four years, with the right on the part of the Postmaster General, for the time being, to extend and continue the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in force for an additional submitted in the contract in the contra of four years.

With a view of procuring the best lock at the lowest price, no kind of lock is prescribed as a standard, the Department relying for a selection on the mechanical skill and ingeauity which a fair competition, now invited, may levelop. It is, however, proper to state that a lock suitable for the mail service should possess the following qualties, viz: durability, uniformity, lightness, and strength. For the purpose of displacing simultaneously all the mail locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys, now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and strength will be contracted to be furnished by the contractor within seven months after the contract shall have been entered into afterwards the annual supply will depend on the durability of the locks and keys adopted, as well as the increase of the mail service; but it will probably never exceed in amount three thousand of the former and one thousand of the latter.

No lock will be considered if it be like any already in general use; nor will any one with whom the contract may be made be allowed to make, sell, or furnish, any lock or key similar to those contracted for for any other purpose or use than that of the Post Office Department.

The kind of lock adopted must be patented, and the patented will be required, on entering into contract, to make an assignment of his patent for the exclusive use and benefit of the Department, if the Postmaster General shall have the right besides a resort to the penal remedy hereinafter mentioned, to annul said contract, and to contract an eventually of parties as he may see fit, for furnishing similar locks and to the parties as he may see fit, for furnishing similar locks and keys.

besides a resort to the penal remedy hereinafter mentioned, to annul said contract, and to contract anew with any other party or parties as he may see fit, for furnishing similar locks and keys.

In deciding upon the proposals and specimens offered the Postmaster General may deem it expedient to select for the through mails the lock of one hidder, and for the way mails that of another. He reserves, therefore, the right of contracting with different individuals for such sinferent kinds of locks as he may select, and also the right to reject all the specimens and proposals, if he shall deem that course for the interest of the Department. The party or parties contracting will be required to give bond, with sample security, in the sum of thirty thousand dolars, for a faithful performance of the contract. The contract is to contain provisions for the due and proper inspection of the locks and keys, and also for guarding against their passing into improper hands; the terms of those provisions to be arranged between the Department and the successful bidder, if a bid should be accepted.

No application will be convidered if not accompanied with satisfactory evidence of the trustworthy character of the bidder, and of the ability to full the extraction.

ASHLAND, 20th July, 1849.

Dear Sir: I wish to express to you the gratification I derived on receiving the July number of the Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review, from viewing, your portrait in the beginning, and from reading your address to your friends at the end of it. When we feel under obligations to these who have contributed to our information and amusement, we are naturally desirous to passess all the knowledge of them, of their appearance, of the features of their countenance, and of the character and habits of their mind, which we can acquire. You have placed your numerous readers (at least you have me, if I may not speak for them) under those obligations; and the unimber of your valuable work now before me, in some legree, satisfies the desire to which I have satisfies. I have become quite familiar with the Magazine and Review, and have no hesitation in expressing my humble phinon that it is eminently entitled to the public regard and support. It collects and arrangee, in good order, a large amount of valuable statistical and other information, tighly useful not only to the merchant, but to the stateman, to the cultivator of the earth, to the manufacturer, to the mariner, in short, to all classes of the business and reasing community.

Entertaining this opioion, I am glad that thus been, and hope that it may continue to be, liberally patronized.

Offering you cordial assurances of my estocas and reart, and truly your friend and obedient servant, Freeman Hunt, esq.

"I have read it (Merchants' Magazine) with a good teal of attention, and have no hesitation in saying that I hink it one of the most valuable periodicals that was over published. To the merchant it seems, quite indiscensable, and to the statesman and man of general information almost equally desirable. It is a grand repository of useful facts and information, which can be found nowhere so well digested and so accessible as in these numbers. I only regret that I do not own the whole work."

Washington Criv, April 20, 1849.

Mr. Freeman Hunt.—Sir: I owe you many theaks for the opportunities I have had to read the Merchants' Magazine, and have found it in reality to be a magazine, and that well repienished, of all the useful matter which the file would imply, and presented with a fullness and clearness which delights while it instructs. It is, in fact, a merchants who go between nations, whose large perations bring many departments of Knowledge, and a view of the state of the world, into daily requisition. But it is not the great merchants who, go between nations, whose large perations bring many departments of Knowledge, and a view of the state of the world, into daily requisition. But it is not the great merchant only, but the one of more nodest, but, nevertheless, of most useful operations—the nerchant of the interior also—who will find this magazine to abound with the information the pursuit of his business and the elevation of the merchantic character requires. Nor is its utility at all commed to merchants, but axtends to the legislator and diplomatist, and to all who are charged with managing the affairs of the nation. For myself, I have found it most useful to me in my senatorial labors, and have been in the habit for many years of carefully consulting it.

Very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

COLD SPRING WATER CURE. THIS NEW AND SPLENDID ESTABLISHMENT

THIS NEW AND SPIENDID ESTABLISHMENT for the scientific treatment of the various diseases with which the human system is afflicted, is situated about three miles from the city of Buffalo, in a rural spot, and so accessible from all points as to be reached without inconvenience or delay.

A line of omnibuses runs from the steamboat landings in Buffalo to the springs every ten minutes.

The bouse and grounds are near the extensive and beautiful green-houses and nurseries of the Messar. Hodges a Bryants; and the scenery in all directions is unsurpassed, as regards either variety or beauty; embracing points of view, from which may be taken in at a glance the broad expanse of lake Eric, the Niagara flowing majestically towards the Falls, extensive forests, and the "Queen City of the lakes," with its moving panorama of steamboats and ceaseless enterprise.

The water, taken immediately from the relebrated "Cold Spring," is unsurpassed as regards coidness and purity, by any in the United States. The house, recently creeted at a cost of about seven thousand dollars, has been fitted up in a neat and elegant style, at considerable extra expense, and is sufficiently capacious to accommodate seventy-five patients.

Connected with the establishment, and constituting one of its attractions, are the fixtures and conveniences for innocent and healthful gymnastic exercises.

of the various forms of disease, and constructed on a scale not inferior to those of any other establishment in this country.

An enlightened public sentiment has every where repudiated a reschess use of drugs in the treatment of disease; while intolerable sufferings and broken constitutions have impersitively demanded "Riefarm." A return from a wide and fittal departure from the simplicity of Nature's large is called for, alike by a rational love of happiness and the deplarable extremels of our condition. Hydrogathy, or a scientific use of water as a restorative and curative agent, is a practical substitution of a simple and remarkably efficacions mode of curing the sick; for that system of drugging, depleting, and canterising, which, in obtaining the unastery over disease, too frequently places, the patient beyond the reach of further annovance. The success of the various Water Cure establishments in this country, it say nothing of any other, has fully confirmed the large of the darly discoverer and promulgators of the great truths upon which the system is founded, and renders verbal communications innecessary. It is deemed sufficient to say, that the "Cold Spring Water Cure "with simpare favorably with any of the well-conducted establishments of a similar character, and will—be found equal to the lort, as regards the order, convenience, and destrableness of its arrangements. The institution is now open for the reception of patients, and in full operation.
